SATURDAY 12TH SEPTEMBER 2009

EDITORIAL MEDIA RELEASE

Release date: Week commencing Monday 3rd August 2009

Hunks and Spunks on the Punt

The Gulargambone Jockey Club committee have ventured into the forays of match making for their annual race day set down for Saturday 12th September 2009. In conjunction with The Land newspaper they are conducting the first of the seasons' registrations for Hunks and Spunks.

Singles guys and gals over 18 years will have an opportunity to put themselves 'out there'. Their personal profile will be promoted state wide published in The Land – call it a little free advertising! This will certainly heat up the competition in Fashions on the Field. Ash Walker publican of the Armatree Hotel and sponsor of one of six races says the local lads are already talking up the day with connections coming from all over New South Wales for the weekend.

Gulargambone have spiced up their Gold Cup race as well, changing the open feature race to a 1200m sprint. This should suite the calibre of regional entries better than the previous 1450m event. The committee have even organised a guest Hunk race caller from Sydney to call the fifth race.

As usual with the Gular races there is plenty of cash and prizes to be won with Sweepstakes, "Winning Losing Betting Tickets", Lucky Gate Entry, Fashions on the Field including a new Tiny Tots event, raffles, and a free jumping castle for the kids. Dubbo based soloist Jason Hill will take the stage during the one hour complimentary luncheon at noon and then again after the last race at 5pm playing favourites from the 80's, 90's and contemporary. Yes ... it's shaping up to be the years 'must go' social outing for everyone!

Gates open from 11.00am with a light lunch commencing 12 noon, and all race day patrons are invited to attend.
